PRESS RELEASE

A desire for cheerfulness,
lightness,
and spontaneity,
radiates throughout the collection.
Playful and organic shapes are displayed
with allure and structure,
yet combined with softness and roundness.
With a few nods,
here and there,
to the swinging sixties & seventies,
the most joyful decades in the history of design.

Into the Wild... without leaving home.
Whiffs of nature, fantastical landscapes
invite themselves into the house.
A carpet like a field seen from the sky,
an asteroid side table,
fabrics full of sun or storm
break the boundaries between the inside and outside...
Because rewilding our interiors
is both energizing and soothing,
like a long walk in the fresh air.

LEYDEN Tables

Revealing the extensive finesse of marquetry, our Leyden line showcases inlay techniques in which French craftsmen excel since the Grand Siècle.

Relying on the know-how of exceptional French cabinetmakers, marquetry was reinterpreted for everyday and contemporary use.

Freed from the straitjacket of geometry, it finds a second wind on a dining table, coffee table and side table.

Tailored pieces of mahogany, oak and walnut give form to abstract patterns, free and dynamic, like a large pop puzzle!

MOSHI Sofa and Lounge Chair

Combining softness and firmness,
their slightly curved shapes
bring out bright conversations
while wrapped up in their “shell” carved backs.
Covered with beautiful ecru linen and cotton,
they look fabulous with contrasting cushions,
but obviously offer many other customization options.

MOSHI Sofa

Upholstered in a very understated ecru,
it is associated with a flamboyant jacquard,
a mix of weaving, embroidery and knotted stitches,
in a very botanical palette.

Just like an impressionist painting,
its fabric evokes gardens or flowerbeds,
devastated but magnificent shortly after the storm...

MOSHI Easy Chair

Covered with a gorgeous linen and cotton.
The fabric's slight irregularities
in hue and relief, deceptively random,
bring depth into its vibrant and distinct color,
somewhere between ochre and terracotta.

Meeting equally
the absolute modernity of the lines
and the timeless beauty
of handwoven craftsmanship
– our brand's signature – .

FOX Side Table

Hiding behind a false air of Calder's stabile,
as much in its asymmetry
as in its mischievousness,
we find an incredibly dense material:
patinated solid bronze,
enhanced by silver plating.

A technique often used in lighting design.

Its tripod, defying gravity,
plays the balancing act.

As the tray evokes the surface of a distant planet
or a landing field for meteorites.

One facetious and lunar piece of furniture,
that we instantly want to place in orbit.

ETRETAT Dining Table

Inspired by the landscapes and dizzying peaks of the Alabaster Coast, the Etretat line showcases a set of tables with sculptural outlines and strong edges. Raw, almost “mineral” pieces, whose boldness contrasts with the softness of its surfaces and refinement of its finishes.

Newly launched for 2022, the dining table comes in brushed elm, reminiscent of flint strata.

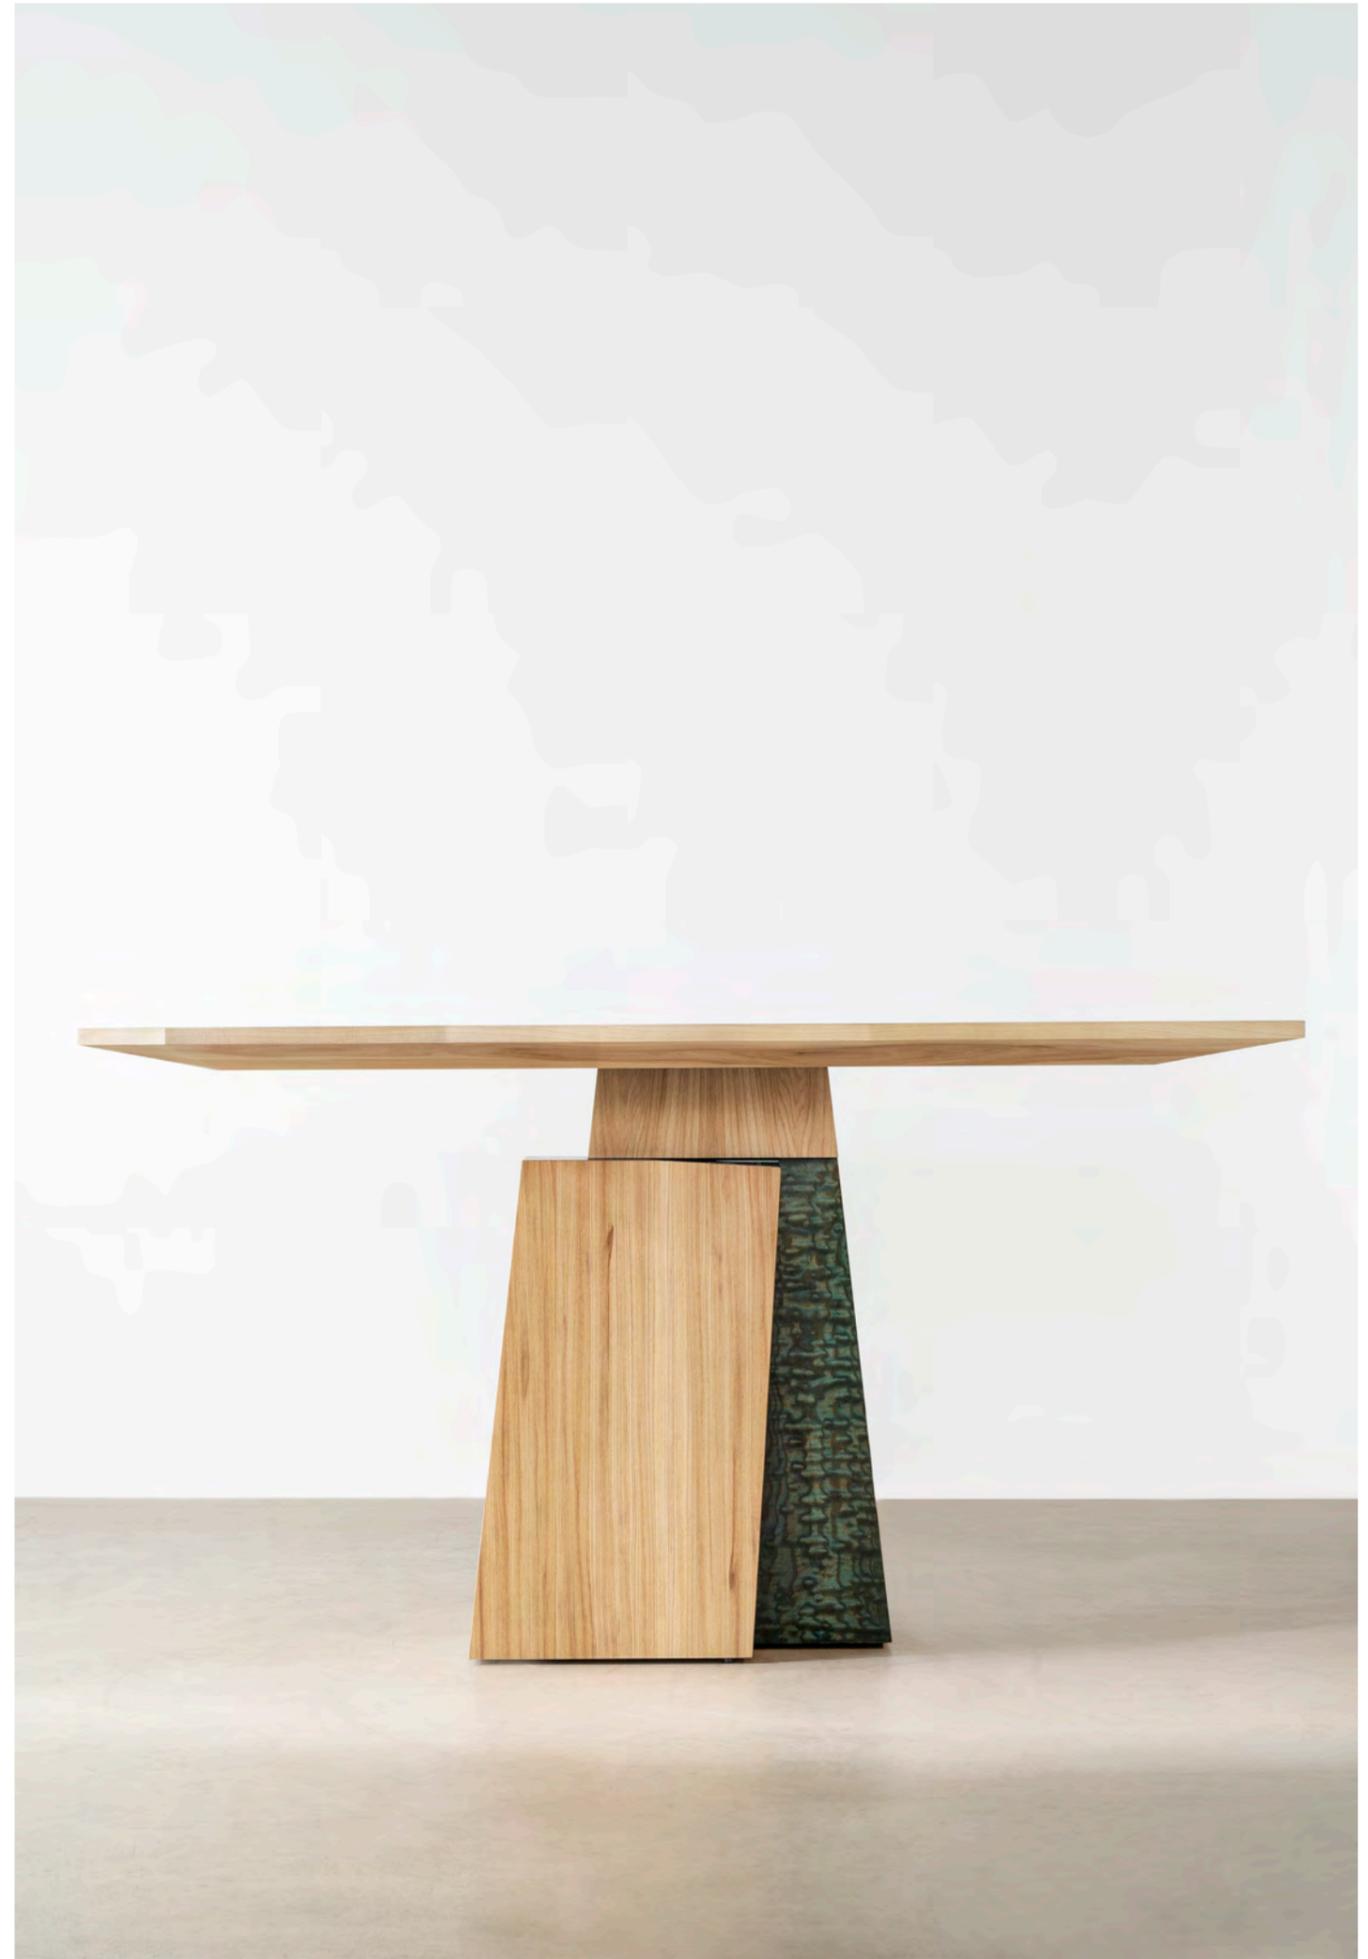

The base of the leg –distinctive feature of the line– is enhanced by a veneer of Tamo wood, with stained and varnished “high gloss” finish, and evokes the beauty of rocks infinitely polished by erosion.

ETRETAT Side Table and Coffee Table

Naturally, our “cliff tables”
are also available as a coffee table and side table, in a combination of brushed wenge
and white ebony.

NICE Armchair

With its armrests in the shape of a petal, and discreet relief evoking the ridges of a shell, the Nice armchair offers just the right amount of curves and roundness.

Both a seat and a welcoming cocoon, neither imposing nor cumbersome, this ideal guest gets along with everyone in the living room right away.

SENIGALLIA Rug

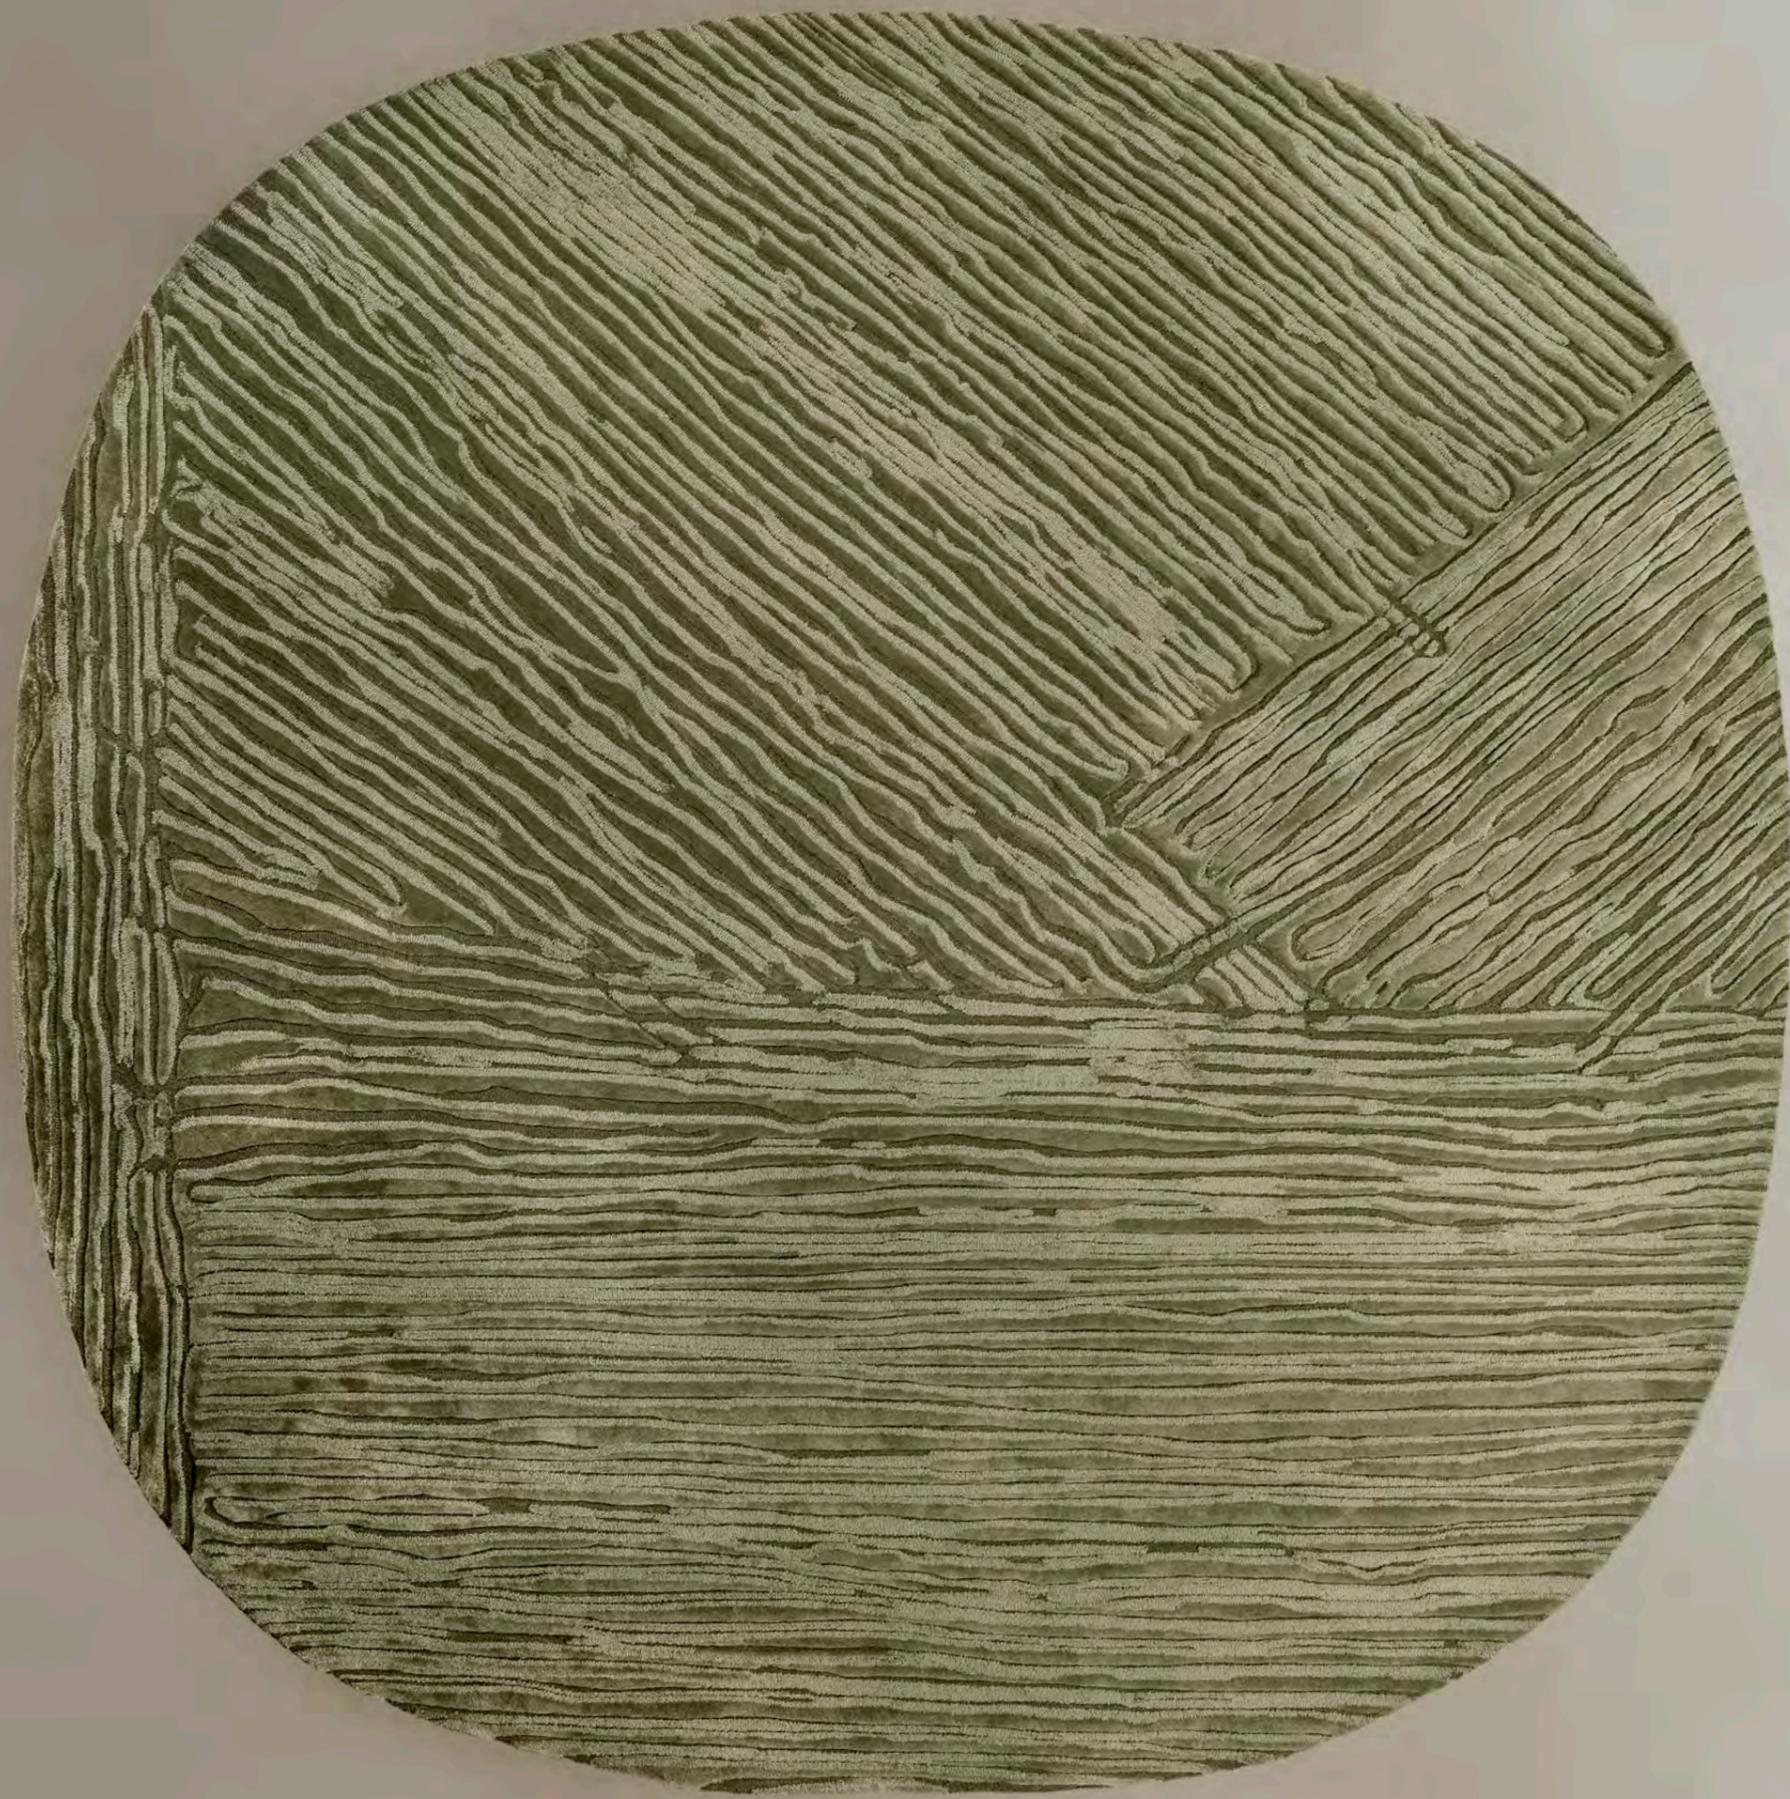

Inspired by pictures of the Italian countryside taken by photographer Mario Giacomelli, a great precursor of land art, the Senigallia rug gets its comfort from its thick tufted wool, a technique invented in the 1970s for the first artists' rugs. It owes its poetry, movement and evocative power to Nature and Nature alone.

Deep green colored, its textured relief brings us back to the undulations of a wheat field in spring, the ripples of a pond or a clay soil.

Displayed in another color, it will summon other visions: the furrows of a harvested field, the veining of a bark or the folds of a rock face...

An "interior landscape" that changes subtly according to the light and the mood.
